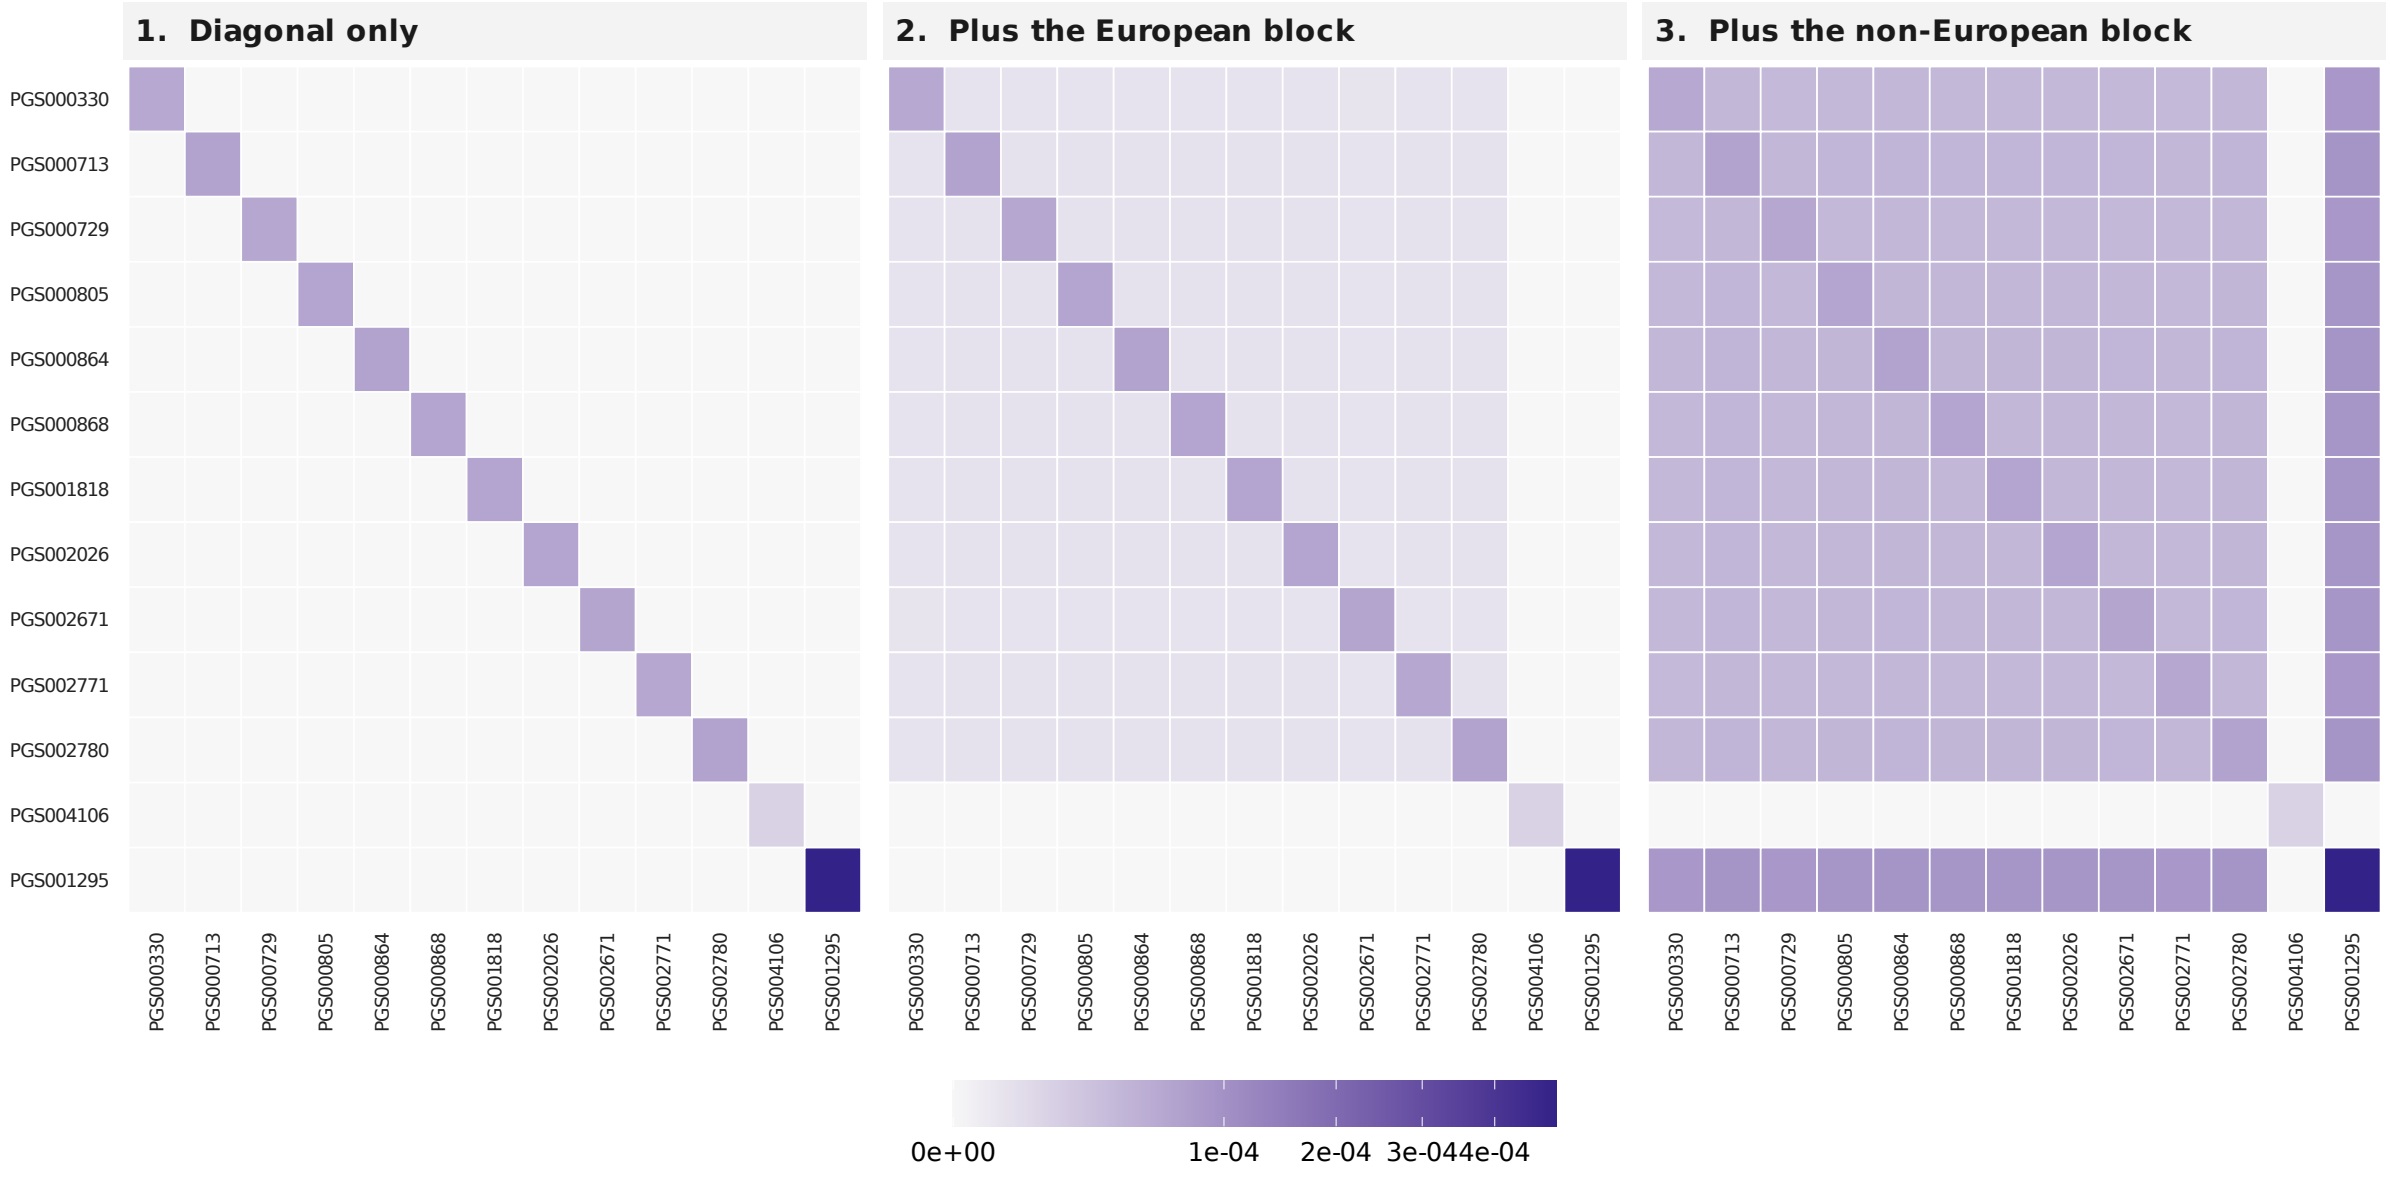
2. Covariance of the ancestry differences

Type 2 diabetes, South Asian participants, European-only training. Built from two calls to vcalc.



Each square is the covariance of two scores' ancestry differences. Colour is on a square-root scale. The European block is faint where those standard errors are small. The non-European block is the wide square. A score wh