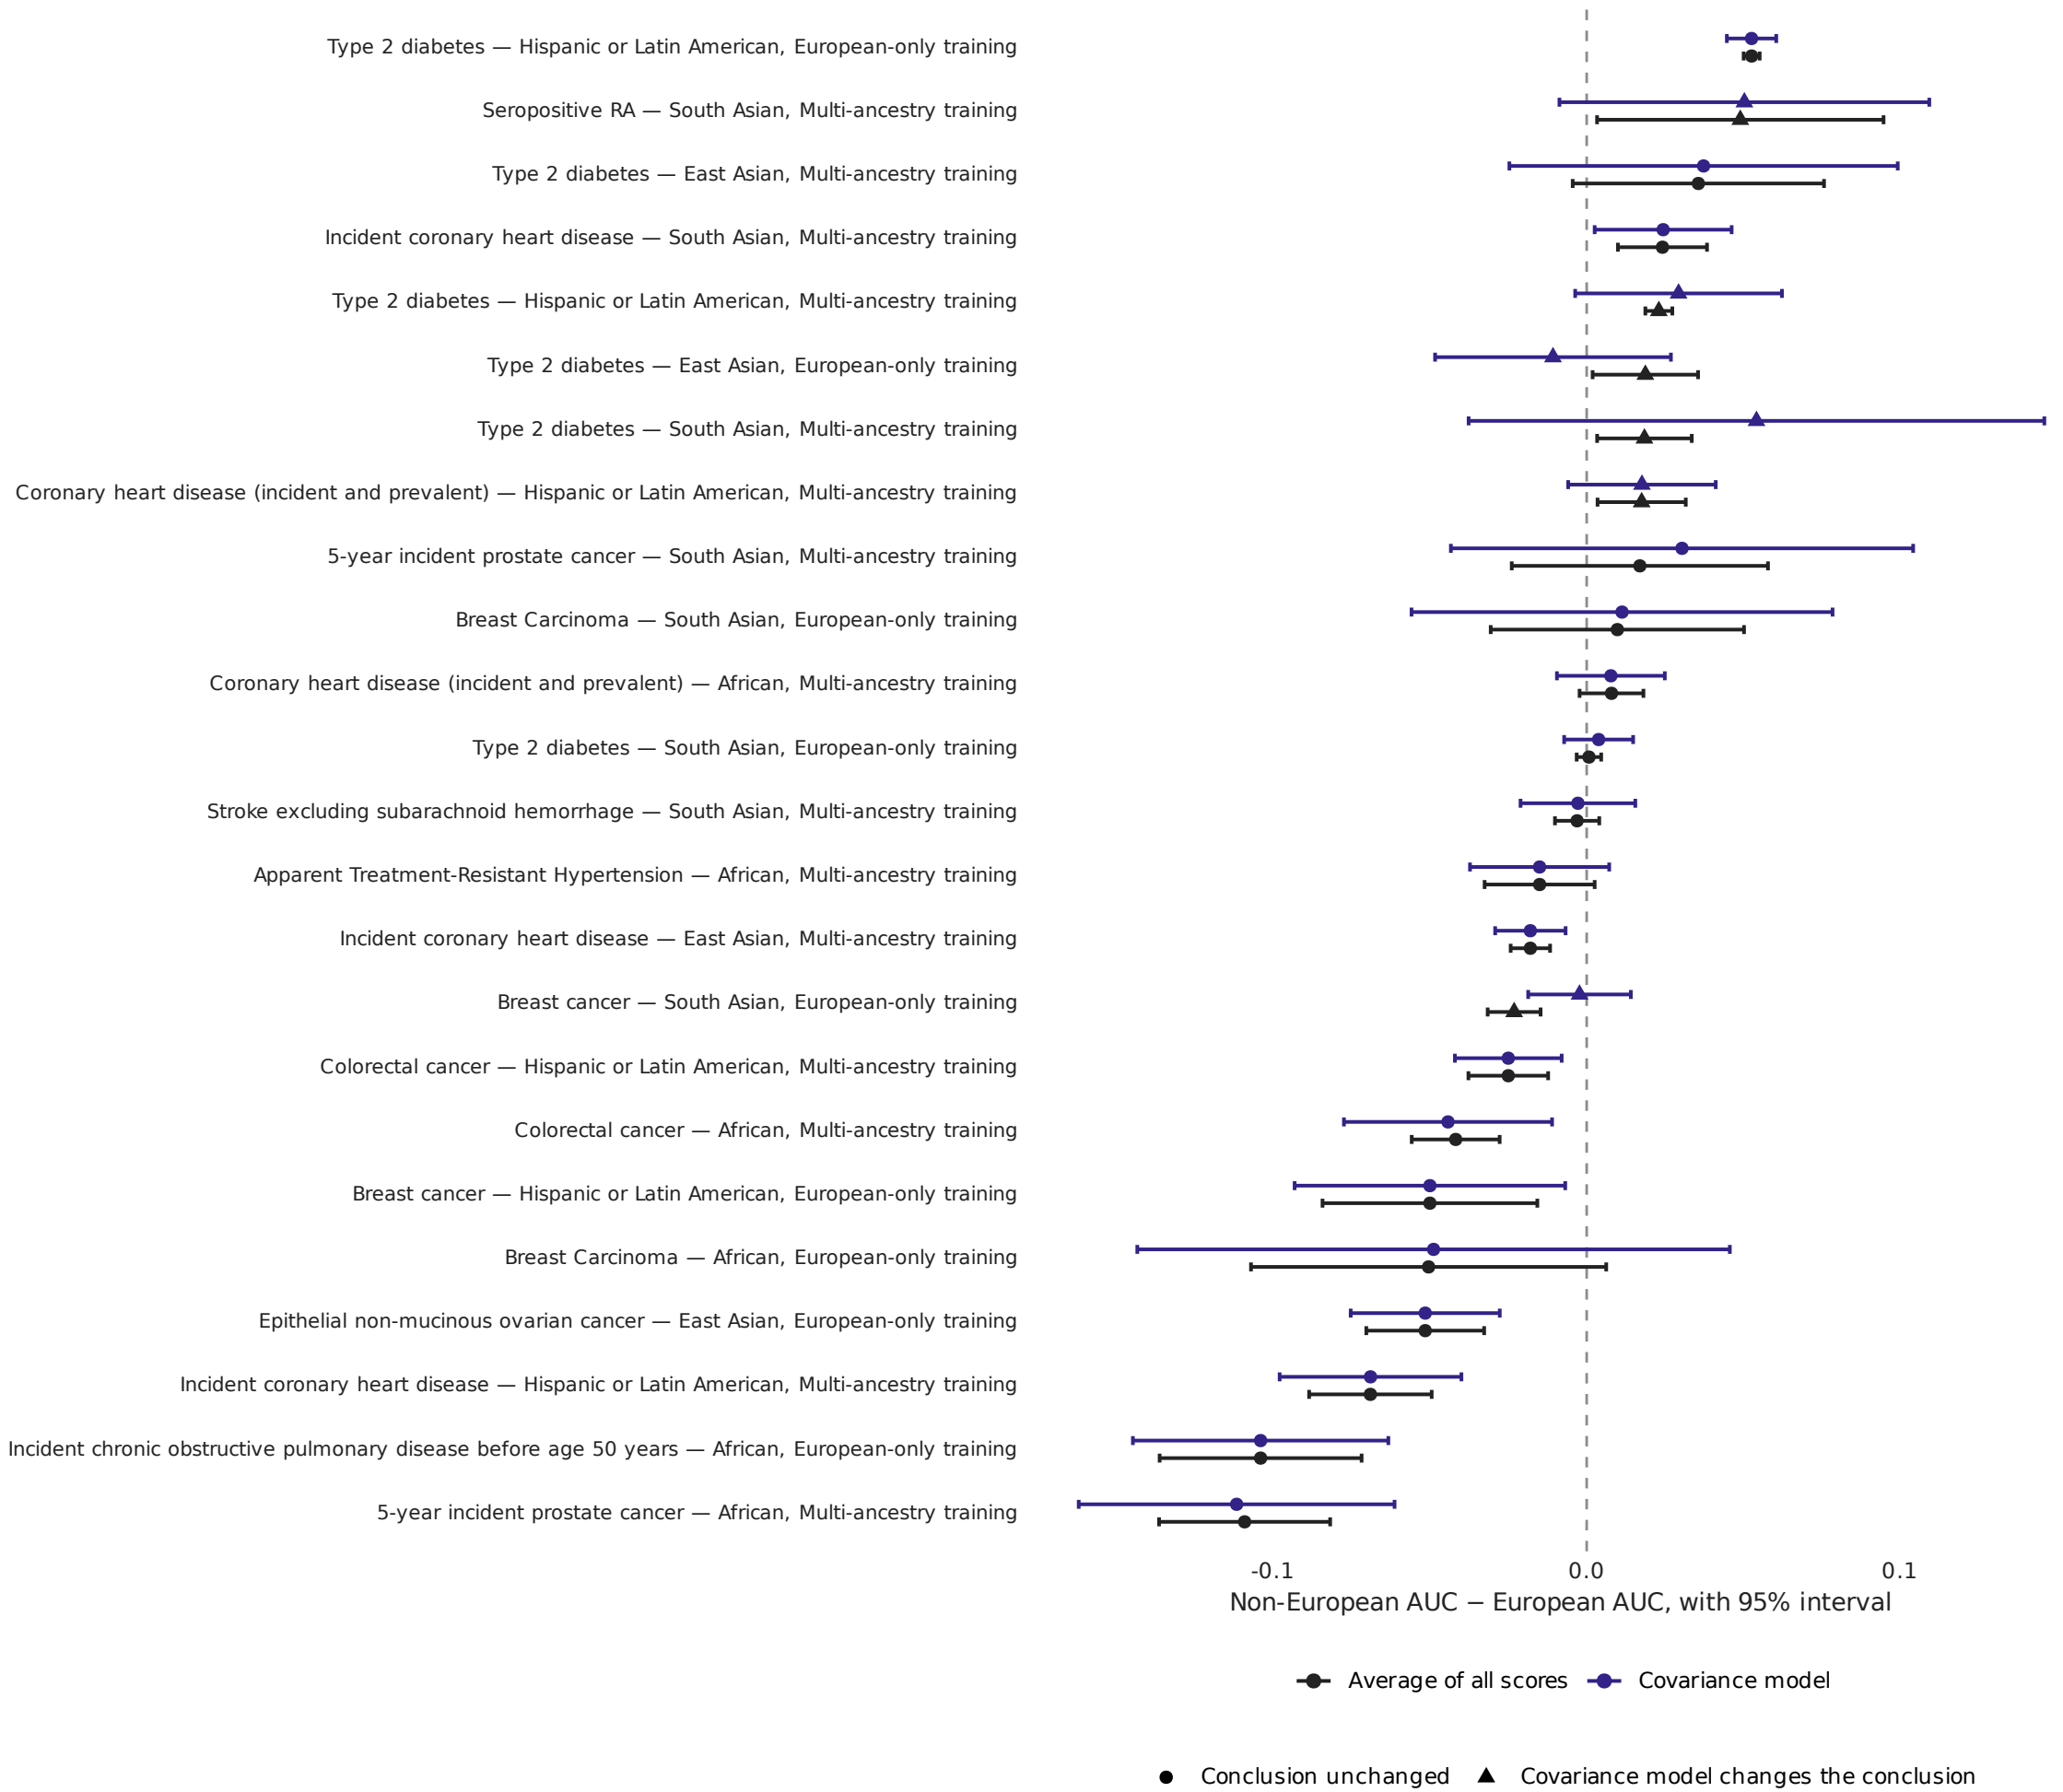
6. Every comparison whose scores share people

Black is the average of all scores. Blue is the covariance model at ρ = 0.6. A triangle marks a comparison whose interval changes whether it excludes zero.



The width ratio uses the delta-method inverse-variance interval. The linked-group bound puts ρ on every pair that shares any study. Comparisons with no shared people are not drawn.